A HIGHLAND SERMON.

Some of our readers may not have read the following sermon :--

Ach, noo, there's a lot of you fine English folks comes here to hear me today, en I'll just speak a word to you that pe a flee in your ears, an' kittle you, for a flong time to come. You're up here enjoyin' yourselves, an' holiday-in' an' think you know a creat deal more than we can tell you, whateffer. But you don't, not a wan of you, you fine peoples from the Sooth, an' mind whaat I'm tellin' you noo, for you are in darkness and in creat ignorances. So just listen to me to-day as carnest as you can, an' you'll hear something.

you nefer heard before or again. My text is Chonhle in the whale's pelly. He wass a prophet, and that wass whaat happent to him for it; so don't you pe prophets, or you'll maype pe as closely confined as Chonah was Now you fine people frae ta Sooth. nind what I'm telling you. You, you have your organs playing in church. Now, what place is a church for an organ at aal. Moreofer, who efer heard of the Postle Paul taking his organ to church wi' him, or who efer heard of Moses and Auton playing wi' an organ? It is an unscriptural instrument, an' that's what it is moreofer. Now what would-Chonah have done wi' an organ 353 in ta whale's pelly? Jast fancy Chonah playin' away at the organ there. Why no respectable whale would not haf stood it for wan minit at all. MO. 1. QUEEN'S GARDENS, Inc. An' then you fine people you must Nemediate entry. Apply to G. C. haf your prayers printed for you in a bit bookie or you will not say them at 338 and, at and. Now you, you fancy Chonah a trying to read his prayers out of a booie in ta whale's pelly. Think how fery dark it must haf wass, nn' tell me if Chonah read his prayers, and how could be light a match if there wass no matches in these days for poor Chonali to light whateffor? Answer me that

243 you fine people from ta Sooth ! An' that reminds me that there's some among you that thinks yourselves fery . knowledge and skilful, an' dooantpelieve MO. 147, WANCHAL ROAD, ROOMS that Chonah swallowed the whale's Nos. 4, 5A, 7 and 8, Suitable for pelly. But just let me tell you that you doesn't know nothing at all, none of you; for it was a phenomenon. That's what it was, and that reminds 93 me some of you'll wass never aware wheat a phenomenon wass. Well, some of you haf seen a Highland coo, whateffer. Now if you wass THE KENNELS' MAGAZINE GAP. to see that coo climbing up a pine tree with its tail foremost away up to the fery top of the tree and lookin' for birds' nests, you would say there was phenomenous for you; or if you'll wass 272 see a collie dog going away out shootin' by itself wi' a fishin rod under its airm you'll would say that woss more phenomenons for you. An' wass it any. wonder that Chonah wass just such a phenomena? Ah! Yes, just you'll answerme that, you, you peoples from THE HONGKONG LAND INVEST-ta Sooth. Well, my frien's, let us noo picture the scene pefore, us. There was poor Chonal sitting squezed up in the pelly of that auld whale, with his head between his knees, and holding his nose Back Yard and Outhouses. Pleasant View died fushes an he was roaring at ta top of his voices to ta whale-Let me oot, let me oot.' But to whale had a duty to perform, 147 and nefer let on it heard him or answered a single word whateffer. But ta whale kept soomin' an soomed awa wi' poor Chonah-awa past ta Mull of Cantyre and Ardnamurcan and Tobermory as hard as it could go, till it came to where Nineveh wass staying, an then it coughed Chonali out in ta water an' real glad wass poor Chonah to get out to the fresh air again. Noo, ma frien's, it's well for you to know these things, for you nefer know. ta day or ta 'oor tat you'll might chance to fa' into to fery pelly o'a whale yourselves, or intae some sort o' collieshangie or anither. An' then you'd be wishing. you were as you were before you wass, an you'll couldn't do it, an what wass you'll be going to do then? Wass you'll be going sit down an' play ta organs when there, or to read your prayer books when there wasn't any? No, ma frien's, but an' unless you'll and repeat you shall and likewise perish. ANECDOTE OF AN ADMIRAL.

Commenting on some society function at home recently, attended by Prince and Princess Edward of Saxe-Weimar, a home paper notes that the Prince, in spite of his foreign title, is a typical Englishman. ASSETS. Illustrating this fact the English paper states that Admiral Sir Henry Keppektells a story of Crimean days, which proves how thoroughly the Prince identified himself with the men he commanded. Keppel, then Captain of the St. Jean d'Acre, had landed at Balaclava, and was trying to find Sir Colin Campbell among the motley crowd of Marines, Guards, and Highlanders who were camped together on the rising ground. The first person I came up with, he said, was a long soldier, without coat or jacker, braces hanging down his back, earrying a bucket of water in one land and drauging a goat along with the other He accosted me. " How are you, Kep-Not having a notion who he was, I replied, " All right, thanks," and passed on. On arriving at the Guards' ground I found Sir Colin standing in the the snow, his jacket flying open as if it were summer. While we were chatting. the soldier with the backet and the goat came by. I asked who he was. "He seems to know me, "I said. "Of course he knows you, " responded Sir Colin ; "that's Prince Edward of Saxe-Womar." 'Admirat Keppel is in his ninety-third year. Few people can beat him in recounting the varied experiences of a long life. He remembers being frightened by his nurse threatening to 'give him to Honey,' und the delight at Quidenham Park (the seat of his father, Lord Albensarle) when the news came of the victory of Waterlooaccomplished, as the boy firmly believed, by the prowess of his older brother George afterwards sixth Earl of Albemarle, and 1142

THE correspondence we publish to-day relative to the British Kowloon School marks the first important step in the reform of the educational system of this Colony advocated by us during the past sever or eight years. As the letters of the Colonial Secretary and Mr Ho Tung contain all the essential facts, it is not necessary to recapitulate them here.

The outcome of these negotiations is that the Government, acting upon the sauction conveyed in Mr. Chambe lain recent despatch approving the principle of separate schools for European and the first School for British children, exclusively at Kowloon in about a month

Kowloon should be the first to possess such a school, for it was due to the of repeated rebuffs and discouragement that the question of proper educational facilities for the European children of the Colony was taken into serious con-

Blake upon his arrival in the Colony.

As soon as arrangements can be carried will be opened on the Island, in a healthy and comparatively central locality. We congentulate all concerned on has been arrived at. It is entirely due to Mr Ho Tung's munificence that the Government is in its present favourable position to start the new school, and that gentleman's name will be remembered by posterity because of the practical support he rendered the Government in its efforts to do educational justice to the European and Chinese children of the Colony. To the Hon. J. H. Stewar

Lockhart, Colonial Secretary, Hon. A.

W. Brewin, Registrar General (formerly Inspector of Schools), and Mr E. A.

Irving, Inspector of Schools, great praise is due for the satisfactory manner in which they have conducted the delicate negotiations connected with the Kowloon School; and it is needless to say that the stipulation set forth in Mr Ho Tung's letter of the 17th inst will be fully satisfied by the Inspector of Schools Mr Ho Tung has beliaved most bandsomely, and deserves the thanks of the public and the Government alike, There is, we learn, a feeling in the British community that the Government would have acted the better part by asking Mr Ho Tung to gift into one for the benefit of the Chinese children. The provision of educational facilities is purely a Government matter, and the British section of pleased had the Government borne all the expense of the Kowloon School and may not be too late to conciliate the sentiment which prompts this suggestion.

But whoever bears the burden of the erection of the building, it remains with the public to make the British Kowloon School a success. In Mr and Mrs James, the Kowloon School will have first-class children the highest principles, so essential in the formation of national character, and no effort will be spared to en able the new European Schools to turn out well-educated children, fit to hold their own with the children of the advantage of the facilities afforded by

The mortality statistics for the week

Mr Chatham, assured the Medical Officer of Health that he would get as much fresh water as he wanted for that purpose.

A Check on Torturers. Yesterday afternoon, a meeting of the Sanitary Board was held, Dr Clark, at the close of the meeting, said-With reference to the meniorandum that has been issued regarding the prevention of give back the site and to convert ois plague, it has been brought to my knowledge that one sentence, under the heading Precautions to be taken in every household is probably liable to misinterprotation. It has been suggested that the sentence refer to implies that strong carbolic acid the community would have been better should be thrown upon rats caught in trips before they are drowned. That was really very far indeed from being my allocated Mr Ho Tung's handsome gift intention in drafting this list of precautions. What I meant. I need hardly say, was that the rate should be first drowned and then disinfected, because averyone knows that there are people of the lowest class who are only too fond of having an opportunity of torturing the animals, and if it appeared that they received any official encouragement it would be very unfortunate indeed. I take this opporunity of drawing attention to the fact that any rate caught in traps should be drowned before being disinfected. and I have no doubt the police will take measures to prevent the torturing of the animals either by pouring carbolic acid on them or in any other way. In the Chinese circular that point has been made very Prevention of Contagious Disease. Yesterday, at the meeting of the Sanitary Board, bye-laws for the prevention or mitigation of epidemic, endemic or contagious disease were, read clause by clause and approved. The only important alteration: in these from those which have hitherto been in force is that the Board instead of declaring any district infected with plague, now defines it as a district in which house-to-house visitation shall take Marquis Ito in Hongkong. The German mail steamer Kiaulschun made a fast run from Singapore, and arrived if Green Island last night. A Marquis Ito, the distinguished Japanese statesman, was on board, the Hon. J. H Stewart Lockhart, Colonial Secretary, accompanied by the Japanese Consul, Mr M Noma, and Mr R. F. Johnston, Private Secretary to His Excellency Major-General Sir W. Gascoigne, K.C.M.G., administering the Government, went on board to welcome him to Hongkong, and to invite him ashore. The Marquis decided to re main on board for the night, and came ashore in the Government launch Victoria this morning shortly after nine o'dock The aged statesman was received by Major-General Gascoigne at Government House, where he remained for a quarter of anhour. He was invited to remain for tiffin and to accompany the Acting Governor to the Racacourse at Happy Valley, but declined, as he was desirous of meeting his compatriots and had very little time to spare owing to the Kuntischau being advertised to sail at five o'clock. He proceeded from Government House to the residence of the Japanese Consul in Macdonnell Road where he spent the remainder of the day It may be mentioned for the information of those who are unaware of the fact that it was Marquis Ito who conducted with the late Li Hung-chang the negotiations a Shimonoseki which resulted in the lemination of the China-Japan war in 1895.

Agreement, an Odessa correspondent one means or another, Russia is determined to secure the closing of the Free Ports within her sphere of influence in China-Port Arthur and Dalny or Talien-wan. Since the closing of the Free Port Vladivostok, an enormous contraband truffic has grown up, the Chinese, acting either on their own account, or more probably for the benefit of enterprising Russian firms, being the chief offenders. Russia cannot afford to keep up a costly frontier guard along the Amur River, without weakening her garrison in Manchuris, which she naturally considers of primary consequence. FIRST DAY, --- WEDNESDAY, 19TH FEDRUARY. The annual race meeting a smoted by the Hongkong Jockey Club commenced to-day, attended by highly favourable atmospheric conditions. long-continued drought, however, has had a decidedly had effect on the training, the Course being rendered hard and trying for the horses. Training has procoeded briskly, and our 'tipster' ('El Caballo') has kept our readers well up to date as to the performances of likely starters. The circumstances which brought Australian waters on the scene are fresh in Mr Peel's Belleva (Gresson) 11st 4lbs ... the memory of all our readers, and a glance over the programme would indicate that Mosses Brown and White's America ... this smart animal has probably come to stay. He takes kindly to his new home. and has introduced Hongkong to the training, style and speed of the home course, a feature never previously attained with the Mr Tlavid's Andace (Baird) 11st 8lbs China pony. The animals brought over | Mr'Tremearne's Goisha (Gogg)11st 4lbs. this year are a fairty good lot as a whole, but there have been some disappointments -a number having gone lame owing to: hard work on a hard Course.

Queen's Road East was an interesting sight, one continuous thickly-congested stream of vehicles of all descriptions wonding its way to the Course, while the roadway was flanked by thousands of pedestrians of all races all bound Eastward Ho! The traffic was, of course, controlled by special regulations made by Council, and these were enforced by a large body of police who operated with admirable success. under the direction of Acting Deputy Superintendent Mackie. The steep decline from the Naval Hospital to the Raccourse was, as usual, lined with a heterogenous collection of vendors of sweetmeats and foods, and the Eastern showman was there, too, with all the clamour which follows the itinerant caterer for the public amusement. The Course itself was a scene to be remembered. Its western extremity was surrounded by the extensive mat stands creeted by the various clubs of the Colony. There was the Colonial, the United, the Lusitano, the Royal Artillery and over so many more stands all crowded by intensely eager throngs of spectators. Then there was the permanent grand stand, in which were many ladies gay in boautiful summer attire. The Jookey Club's own special stand was brilliantly decorated with evergreens and hanners. The interior of the Course at the points of interest, particularly the finishing point, growded by a cosmopolitan mass of humanity. The whole Valley viewed from the top of any of the verdant hills which surround it and add so much to its actractiveness must have for ned a magnificent picture. Mr T. F. Hough, Clerk of the Course, and the Jockey Club Committee are to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements made for the comfort and enjoyment of all. They were on a par with those which gave so much general pleasure last year, and that is saying a good His Excellency Major-General Gascoigne, K.C.M,G., and Lady. The Scoto-Welsh International. London, February 2 .- A luge gathering of 35,000 people assembled at Cardiff, on Saturday, to witness the International Rugby match between Scotland and Wales. The visitors won the toss and elected to. face a strong wind-a grave tactical error, because all the points were ecored in the first half of the game. Even within the first twenty minutes Wales scored three tries, the last of which was converted Later, in the first half, Wales scored another try, unconverted, and Scotland a try from which a goal resulted.

The Welsh forwards had the upper hand throughout the game, and made their superiority felt in the scrums. Most of the separate schools in which the children of play was on the Scottish ling. The Welsh three-quarters and halves also showed beautiful combination, whilst the Scottish three-quarters and halves effered a good defence, but had little chance for aggressive Wales won by one goal and three tries

EDUCATIONAL REFORM IN HONGKONG.

The British Kewloon School. The following correspondence is forworded for publication by the Hon. J.H. Stowart Lockhart, Colonial Secretary :-

Colonial Secretary's Office,

Hongkong, 15th February, 1902. Sir, -I have the honour to draw your attention to a matter of great importance connected with the British Kowloon School, recently built at your expense. In past years the Government of Hongkong has held that in schools maintained or assisted by the tax-payers no distinction of race or crood could legitimately be drawn. Lately however, the Government has been induced to regard the question in another light and has arrived at the conclusion that an education given in schools attended indiscrimately by the children of various races and languages is not efficient, and that the best interests of the inhabitants of the Colony will be served by the establishment of each race can obtain the education which is especially suited to their needs.

2. This being so, the Government views with some embarrassment the position creas ted by the terms on which the British Kowloon School has been established. The position may be briefly stated as follows: You, Sir, made the generous offer of a large sum of money for the crection of a public school at Kowloon open to all races, and the Government gratefully accepted that offer. But in the two years that have since elapsed the views of the Government have developed, and at the very time when the principle of separate schools has become established it finds itself in the position of having to open a new mixed school.

3. Under the circumstances, there is but one course to pursue, however ungracious R. W.F., play off their tie in the semi-final | it may appear to be. Happily the Government is emboldened by the confidence that you had no motive in your liberal action Competition. It was a delightful after- beyond the welfare of the Colony, and it vacancy. Hongkong, 17th February, 1902. Sir. - I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th inst. requesting me to reconsider the condition attaching to my gift of the Kowloon School on the ground that Government have come to the conclusion to provide instruction, in fature, to children of different nationalities n apparate schools. 2. It is hardly within my competence, speaking from the point of view of the educationist, to enter into any discussion on this latest decision of Government. But cannot refrain from an expression of very sincere regret for so radical a change of policy on the part of Government, and which prompted my offer of the school to the Colony. To recall previous correspondence and interviews, it will be remembered that I attached most importance to the stipulation that no distinction should be drawn as regards either the nationality or creed of any scholar applying for admission to the Kowloon School. 3. I was actuated to lay special stress or his particular point by the consideration that all colonial public institutions (to the maintenance whereof public funds were to be applied) in order to be successful and prosperous, broadly speaking, must be open to one and all alike. It is in the strict [fadherence] to this vital principle that had contemplated the prosperity and success of the new school on the other side of the harbour. 4. On the other hand, I have no desire that my gift should be hedged in by conditions not capable of reasonable modification, as my sole object is to benefit education. I much reluctance, to yield to the request of Government to waive my original condition to the extent desired. I do so, however on the definite understanding that Government, on their part, undertake to appoint for the new Yaumati School for of your letter under reply at least one properly qualified English master and to maintain the standard of education there on the same level as that in the Kowloon School for European children. Until econ provisions are made, in addition to those contemplated, I beg respectfully to differ with the opinion that the educational wants of the Chinese in the dependency of

Dr. B. O'BRIEN, M.D., Civil Surgeon, Faizabad, says :- Mr N. Lazarus, optician, examined my vision to day, and I have much pleasure in testifying to the accuracy with which he determined the proper glasses for me to wear. His method of examination is a very ingenious and sccurate one, and by it he should be able to ascertain the proper glasses for the correction of all the errors of refraction met with in the eye.

Surgeon-Major G. C. HALL, in charge of the Eye Ho-pital, Allahabad, says :- I have tested your Patent Refraction Test, and find it remarkably good and accurate, and I think it should prove very useful to all who are called upon to treat errors of refraction, specially Astigmatism, which is so common and yet so frequently over-

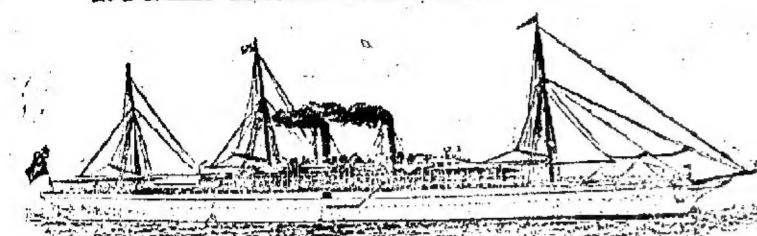

Dr BEAUMONT, F.R.C.S., M.D., Reaidency Surgeon, Hyderabad, says :- Mr. Lazarus has shown me his method of testing the eyes of persons whose vision is defective, and I consider that any one requiring Spectacles may depend on being carefully fitted by him.

STERNWHEEL STEAMERS have been found by experience to be the best type of vessel for shallow river navigation under many conditions of working, and of these Messrs. YARROW have built a very large number of successful examples for all parts of the world. Vessels on this system are constructed when required, to draw as little as 10 inches. The construction of shallow river vessels propelled on various systems has been made the speciality of Messys.

For particulars apply to YARROW & CO., LTD., Shipbuilders, POPLAR, LONDON.

AGOOD COUGH MEDICINE.

[From the Gazette, Touveomba, Australia.] Te find Chamberlain's Coogh Remedy is an I excellent medicine. I have been suffering from a severe cough for the last two month, and it has effected a cure. I have great pleasure in recommending it .- W. C. Wockies. This is the opinion of one of our oldest and most respected residents, and has been voluntarily given in good faith Mr H. U. Jeffrica Hon, and Mrs A. G. that others may try the remedy and be benefited, as was Mr. Wockner. This re-Dr and Mrs Bateson mody s sold by All Dealers; WATKINS Lad .. General Agents.
